MARTHA WASHINGTON'S WILL.

The threatened lawsuit over Martha Washington's will should interest a world of collectors. Missed from Fairfax Court House, Va., during the Civil war, it was long lost to view. Now it is credibly said to be in the library of J. P. Morgan. Fairfax demands its return. Mr. Morgan's librarian offers on his behalf to swap a photographic copy of it for a photograph of George Washington's will—and remains "very truly yours."

If all the library loot that passes from hand to hand until it reposes near the longest purse were to be replenished, there would be flittings back and forth of famous "items" almost as sensational as those of "Mona Lisa." Most collectors regard manuscripts as "ferae nature," wild gifts of nature which any man is free to bag. Even the fact that a will is a public record might not count heavily with the average collector should he get a chance to buy of another innocent purchaser the last testament, say, of Button Gwinnett, rarest of the "Signers."

By all means let suit be brought, that the possessors of rare public documents may know where they stand; whether they may gloat in secret over treasure-trove or return it, or possibly have their rights strengthened by a new legal doctrine of adverse possession. Meanwhile the will is at least safer with Mr. Morgan than it was in Fairfax in the regrettable troubles of the early sixties. —New York World.

LOS ANGELES PLANS $10,000,000 PLANT.

San Francisco, Dec. 25.—Los Angeles plans to develop a gigantic municipal power project, involving an expenditure of $10,000,000 in Mono County, according to proposals outlined before the State Board of Water Power Control by attorneys and engineers representing that city.

A tunnel 26 miles long, to carry water from streams tributary to Mono Lake into the Owens River Valley, where it will be merged with the Los Angeles Aqueduct project, is one of the most pretentious features of the proposed undertaking.

These plans were revealed in explanation of Los Angeles' opposition to the application of E. G. Ryan, a Southern Pacific detective, who had asked for permits to appropriate water from Rush Creek and Leevining Creek, in the vicinity of Mono Lake. S. B. Robinson, Assistant Los Angeles City Attorney, said he believed Ryan was representing the Chappell interests, which control the Nevada-California Power Company, the Sierra Power Company, the Mono Power Company, and the Hydro-Electric Company. Ryan's attorneys deny this allegation.

Asks Employment for 35,000.

Los Angeles, Dec. 20.—Representatives of the Socialist party, Industrial Workers of the World and several other organizations petitioned the City Council today to appropriate at once $500,000 and take steps to procure $5,000,000 more for public works on which 35,000 idle men could be employed.

The petition was drafted at a mass meeting last night. It was presented by Thomas W. Williams, an officer of the Socialist party, who was accompanied to the City Hall by more than 1,000 men and women.

Five Struck by Autos.

In a driving rain men are apt to cross streets with heads bent and eyes only half attentive to the dangers of the crossings. Under such conditions five men were run down by automobiles recently.

Joseph Keegan, a bartender of 222 East Fifty-eighth street, was seriously injured when a taxicab knocked him over in front of 962 Third avenue. Patrolmen Unfricht, one of the young bluecoats attached to the West 100th street station, was struck by an automobile as he was crossing West End avenue at Ninety-seventh street, but escaped with slight bruises, John Scafer, a butcher of 717 Clinton street, Hoboken, was crossing Fourth avenue at Fourteenth street when he was struck by a taxicab. His injuries were not serious.

In Brooklyn last evening, at Fulton street and Ormond place, Thomas Murray, the property man of the Orpheum theatre, was struck and thrown by an automobile driven by Charles Ackerman of 614 West 157th street, Manhattan. He came out of it with four ribs broken. Hassimur Adamsoff of 146 North Sixth street, Williamsburg, was run over at Berry and North Sixth streets by a heavy motor truck. His left leg was crushed and he was hurt internally. He is in the Eastern District hospital. His condition is critical.

Broken Wind Shield Due to Girl's Death.

Investigation of the death of Miss Olga Garetsky, of Mineola, found in the trolley road near East Williston, Friday night, confirms the theory that she was struck by an automobile. County Detective Seaman believes she was hurled in the air and that her body struck the glass wind-shield. Search is being made for an auto with a broken wind-shield.

D. A. R. Meeting.

Ethan Allen chapter, D. A. R., held its January meeting on the afternoon of the 10th at the pleasant home of Mrs. Ransom Benedict. A goodly number were present, though the day was very cold and stormy, several new members being present, also several guests. Two new names were presented by the registrar for acceptance. The usual reports of secretary and treasurer showed the chapter to be in a very flourishing condition.

A very graphic and interesting account of the State convention at Brattleboro was given by Mrs. Thomas E. Boyce, she speaking of the great courtesy and royal welcome accorded the D. A. R., she also read Miss Katherine Griswold's original poem entitled "Twentieth Century Musings," which was given at the convention and much appreciated by Ethan Allen chapter.

It is expected the regent, Mrs. Brewster, will attend the National convention, also Miss Margaret Sheldon was elected to represent the chapter to be held in Continental hall, Washington, D. C., in April. Some ten alternates were also chosen.

The chapter voted a sum toward the purchase of an inner rail for the grand staircase of Memorial Continental hall, Washington, D. C. This rail is expected to be given and placed by the Vermont chapters, their being 28 chapters and some 1400 members.

A gift of five dollars was voted for the Kurn Hattin home for worthy boys. A vote of sympathy and condolence was to be forwarded to Mrs. Blackmer in this her greatest sorrow and bereavement in behalf of the chapter.

The literary program consisted of a paper by Mrs. Leroy Russell, entitled, "The Fifteenth Amendment," a very able and witty production. She said in part: "I think the higher education of women was what led up to her better position in the world, and as Mary Willard was the first to open a school for higher education of woman and that was here in Middlebury, I think it up to us, as a society, to erect some memorial to her memory." Two fine piano duets were given by Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Bristol, they responded to an encore.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, and a social hour enjoyed before the guests dispersed to meet with Mrs. McGilton, May 12th, Ticonderoga day.
